FOUNDED OVER 65 YEARS AGO

Florigo, founded in 1951 was the very first frying range manufacturer in The Netherlands. Florigo stands for Floris Goes, who was the founder of the company.

As a Dutchman serving at a Dutch military base near Wolverhampton around 1949, Floris Goes experienced the typical English tradition of fish and chips. He liked it but was amazed by the big square pans the products were fried in. The pans contained a lot of fat and did not have a thermostat to keep the correct temperature. He wondered if it was possible to do this more efficiently and with that thought, back in Holland after his military service, he started his own company in 1951 building frying ranges, first for Dutch cafeterias and snack bars, then fish and chip shops.

AN EXPANDING BUSINESS

In the mid-eighties the sons, Ad, Floris jr. and Ries, joined the company and Florigo started to build frying ranges for the UK market. Floris set out the founding principles which his sons proceeded to make sure the business still abides by today: to build a strong, high capacity, easy to clean, oil/fat and gas efficient bespoke frying range and to always listen to the customer.

THE UK RELATIONSHIP

Florigo Holland had an agent selling into the UK in the past however in 2004 they forged a successful and long standing relationship with a former multiple fish and chip shop owner and Florigo UK was born.

Florigo UK makes the Dutch-style ranges more accessible to the UK and by having staff with years of experience in the fish and chip shop industry allows Florigo to have a thorough understanding of what customers need from their frying equipment to help them run their business successfully.

Today our UK Office in Redditch has an expanding and experienced team of staff who deal with enquiries, sales, installations, service and parts along with a team of highly skilled engineers on the road providing nationwide coverage with 24/7 support.

AN EXCITING FUTURE

In late 2018 Florigo Holland was sold to Bien Quit. As well as Florigo, Bien Quit purchased Hegro and Du Keiper to strengthen the brand, meaning we have now become one of the largest range manufacturers in Europe. The plan is to introduce strategic and operational opportunities to create sustainable value. We will always strive to be the best we can be and our customers will gradually begin to see exciting changes within Florigo.

THE DIFFERENCE IS FLORIGO
